Previous exhibitors have included artists on the order of Marguerite Doernbach, but the present incumbent, William Knight, is a lesser-known, albeit with many appearances in group shows to his credit. To the degree that he seizes upon trees as living organisms, Mr. Knight evokes Charles Burchfield -- but fleetingly so, for there is no anthropomorphism here. The dark trunks of junipers rise against a lemon yellow sky. Coniferous growth in colors ranging from dark green to yellow and silver gray seems to shudder as it casts long, dark shadows; not for nothing does the artist call his subjects "Vital Trees." Although Mr. Knight has yet to achieve consistency of surface and the brushstroke that "speaks," it is plain that there lurks in him an Expressionist awaiting release. The show closes on Friday; the gallery is on the campus at 171 Broadmead. Hours are 9 A.M. to 3 P.M. Monday through Friday. For information: (609) 258-3650.
